SUMMARY OF SERVICES

- Marriage and Family reconciliation
- Church and Organizational conflict assistance
- Alternative Dispute Resolution – conflict coaching and mediation

Peter interned with Peacemaker Ministries in the summer of 2006, after his first year of law school. That year he received Christian Conciliation training with the Institute of Christian Conciliation. But even before law school, God used Peter's experiences as a youth to help him appreciate the wisdom found in God's word to guide believers through the storms of conflict. As an attorney, Peter has seen the hurt that can remain unresolved at the end of the day in the courts. Peter's passion for peacemaking has helped him grapple with the richness of God's mercy and justice.

As a lover of Christ's church, Peter loves reminding Christians of their living hope in Christ Jesus. This hope allows them to respond to conflict differently than the world. How Christians love each other affects our witness to the watching world.

Having gone through an unwanted divorce, Peter learned that peacemaking is not a formula and that all of life is dependent on God's grace. Peter has seen God's faithfulness even through divorce. Peter is married to his wonderful bride, Nikki and by God's grace they are raising three energetic boys.

Peter currently practices Traffic and Misdemeanor Defense at his law firm, Peter John Louie, P.C. He opened his office in Virginia Beach in 2011. Prior to that, Peter served as the Director of Research for Liberty University School of Engineering, helping the Dean draft contracts, royalty agreements, grant applications, and manage its intellectual property.

Peter was born and raised on Long Island, New York, but caught his father's love for national parks at a young age. He loves to entertain guests, play basketball, eat fruit, explore nature, and learn about God. Peter started BeReconciled.com to encourage Christians to practice peacemaking.
